OVERCOMING BARRIERS TO WELLNESS: EVELYN'S STORY OF HOPE AND HEALING

In 2021, Evelyn was referred to Temple Community Clinic. Struggling with hyperglycemia, hypertension, and chronic stress, her health deteriorated as she couldn't afford medications. Forced to cut back to part-time work and eventually retire early, Evelyn lost access to affordable health insurance.

When she first visited TCC, Evelyn's health was rapidly declining due to uncontrolled blood sugar and high blood pressure. Her living situation was equally troubling, with inadequate housing and social isolation. Financial limitations further worsened her situation, as she couldn't afford the necessary care.

The clinic's medical provider connected Evelyn to the clinic's social work team. The social worker assessed her psychosocial needs and advocated for resources to improve her living situation. Case management services helped her access glasses and applied for disability benefits.

"OVER TIME, THROUGH COLLABORATION WITH THE MULTIDISCIPLINARY TEAM, EVELYN WAS ABLE TO RECEIVE THE HEALTHCARE SHE DESPERATELY NEEDED"

Evelyn was linked to clinic's chronic health program to provide health literacy.

Mental health support was a key part of her care, helping Evelyn manage her symptoms of depression and anxiety. Over time, through collaboration with the multidisciplinary team, Evelyn was able to receive the healthcare she desperately needed.

Fast-forward to today, Evelyn's physical and mental health has improved as a result of consistent treatment and wrap around services provided by TCC.
